

Rights and obligations of the beneficiary of funds awarded under the support for PhD students of the Research Support Module at the Faculty of Geography and Geology of the Jagiellonian University in 2023.

1. The programme beneficiary has the right to:
 - a) getting to know the score of the application evaluation in each category (upon application);
 - b) appeals against the result of the evaluation and the amount of the granted support;
 - c) applying for a change in the amount of funds allocated to particular types of activities.

2. The programme beneficiary is responsible for:
 - a) immediately informing the Chairman of the Committee and the scientific supervisor of events having a direct impact on the possibility of carrying out the research programme;
 - b) expenditure of funds in accordance with the cost estimate, applicable regulations and the principle of purposefulness and rationality of expenses;
 - c) completing the payment and submitting report on time;
 - d) providing information on support from Research Support Module ID UJ programme in the publications resulting from the research supported by this programme.